Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

- 1) ☒ Responsive to communication(s) filed on 06 December 2005.
- 2a) ☒ This action is FINAL. 2b) ☐ This action is non-final.

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 25-30 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by JOHNSON et al (WO 99/59363).

Regarding claim 25, JOHNSON discloses an information acquiring system in which a terminal apparatus acquires content related to a position in a predetermined region transmitted from a server (abstract; page 5, 17-21), comprising: a position information receiver that receives position information of the terminal apparatus (page 5, 17-21, 25); and a content list transmitter that identifies acquisition-scheduled content based on the position information, the acquisition-scheduled content being content related to at least one expected future position of the terminal apparatus where the terminal apparatus is unable to communicate with the server, a content list being generated and transmitted to the terminal apparatus, the content list including at least one address associated with the acquisition-scheduled content and at least one position (page 5, 17-21, 31-32, 37-40), wherein the terminal apparatus (mobile node) comprises: a position detector that detects a position of the terminal apparatus (page 18-20, 25); a position information transmitter that transmits the detected position to the server (page 18-20, 25); a content list receiver that receives the content list transmitted from the server (page 11-15, 34, 37-40); and a content acquirer that acquires the acquisition-scheduled content using the address associated with the acquisition-scheduled content included in the content list (page 11-15, 34, 37-40).

Regarding claim 26, see the rejections of the parent claim concerning the subject matter this claim is dependent upon. JOHNSON further discloses wherein the position information transmitter of the terminal apparatus transmits a request for the content list to the server (page 18-20).

Regarding claim 27, see the rejections of the parent claim concerning the subject matter this claim is dependent upon. JOHNSON further discloses wherein the server comprises a content list receiver that receives the request for the content list from the terminal apparatus (page 37-40).

Regarding claim 28, see the rejections of the parent claim concerning the subject matter this claim is dependent upon. JOHNSON further discloses wherein the position detecting section of the terminal apparatus detects a moving direction and moving speed of the terminal apparatus, and the position information transmitting section transmits the moving direction and moving speed of the terminal apparatus to the server (page 5, 17-21, 25).

Regarding claim 29, see the rejections of the parent claim concerning the subject matter this claim is dependent upon. JOHNSON further discloses wherein the acquisition-scheduled content comprises content related to at least one expected future position of the terminal apparatus where the terminal is unable to communicate with the server (page 11-15, 34, 37-40).

Regarding claim 30, see the rejections of the parent claim concerning the subject matter this claim is dependent upon. JOHNSON further discloses wherein the content list transmitting section determines which of the at least one expected future position of the terminal apparatus is located in an area where the terminal apparatus will be unable to communicate with the server, and identifies acquisition-scheduled content associated with the determined at least one expected future position (page 11-15, 34, 37-40).

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 14-24 are allowed.
4. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:
5. Regarding independent claim 14, the prior art of record does not disclose wherein a content list transmitting section sets, as acquisition-scheduled content, content in response to a position in which the content is expected to be referred to after moving and which is outside a communication-capable area, from the position received in the position information receiving section, and generates a content list storing at least one of a pair of an address associated with the acquisition-scheduled content and a position to transmit to the terminal apparatus.

Regarding independent claim 21, the prior art of record does not disclose a content acquiring section that acquires acquisition-scheduled content, using an address associated with acquisition-scheduled content stored in the content list, the acquisition-scheduled content corresponding to a position in which content is expected to be referred to after moving and which is outside a communication-capable area.

Regarding claims 15-20 and 22-24, these claims are allowed as being dependent on an allowed independent claim.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."

Conclusion

6. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
